LARGE AUDIENCE

Attended Red Men's Memorial Service and All Enjoyed the Occasion.

Last Sunday afternoon the Methodist church was well filled at the appointed hour when the memorial service was to take place.

The Red Men were not well represented in numbers, only about one-third of the membership being present, but the occasion was none the less interesting and impressive.

Sachem Charles Davis being absent, Past Sachem W. H. McDonald presided in his place, and Deputy Great Sachem, D. W. Clark, filled the position of Prophet; D. T. Wilson filled the position of Senior Sagamore, in the absence of J. H. Hurst, Judge F. D. Sampson, the Mechinewa, was present and took command of the parade.

The line was formed and all marched to the church and took their positions, and the entire Tribe joined in singing the opening ode, after which the Tribe was seated.

The roll-call of deceased chiefs was heard and followed by the introductory remarks of the Sachem.

Song—"Holy City," by Miss Cleo Baker. This was followed by remarks from Sachem and Senior Sagamore.

Song—"In the Sweet Bye and Bye," by the choir, followed by prayer by Prophet.

Song—"Lead Kindly Light"—Duet—Misses Wilson and Weaver, followed by the Senior Sagamore's remarks.

Song—"Rock of Ages," sung by four ladies as a quartet.

Immediately following this the Sachem introduced the speaker of the day, Prof. George H. Reibold, of Miantonomah Tribe, No. 162, of Metamora, Ind., who delivered one of the finest memorial addresses ever listened to in this town. Prof. Reibold has for years been a member of the Order, and is well informed in its teachings, and the force of his address was felt by the entire audience present, as well as the members. And we feel sure that many went away from the church with a kinder and warmer feeling for Redmanship in their breast after listening to its teachings explained on last Sunday afternoon. He set forth the tenets, Freedom, Friendship and Charity in their true light, and showed that the Order was founded upon the scriptures, and the closing picture of the address brought tears to the eyes of most of the audience.

The Junior Sagamore's remarks followed the address, after which the entire congregation joined in singing "Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow," and the benediction was pronounced by the Prophet, and the procession moved out and back to the Lodge room in a body.

This occasion was pronounced by all as being one of the nicest ever witnessed here, while it was simple and plain, the decorations used being the national flags, the emblems of Freedom, the first of the three cardinal principles.

We wish in this public way to thank the ladies who rendered such valuable assistance in the music, and assure them that their services were heartily appreciated by the entire Tribe, and we but voice the sentiment of the Tribe when we express the thanks of the Tribe to each of them. Also to Prof Reibold we want to publicly congratulate him for the splendid way in which he set before the people the true principles of the Order, and assure him that he will never have to T. O. T. E. his burdens any farther than to Teohitoulas Tribe to receive the kindest attention one Red Man can bestow upon another.

"HOME COMING WEEK"

Next June Selected As the Date For the Celebration.

The date for "Home Coming Week," for Kentuckians who are now living outside of the State, has been set for the week of June 12, 1906. The reunion will be held in the new Armory building at Sixth and Walnut streets in Louisville.

Gov. Beckham will be asked to appoint a commission from each county in the State who will attend to establishing a separate headquarters he represents. One feature of the decorations will be the "Hall of Fame" in the gallery. In it will be hung the pictures of noted men of the State. Each day of the reunion will be designated by a different name in honor of some particular event in the history of Kentucky and its people.

About Completed.

Col. John G. Matthews has just about completed his railroad from the L. and N. railroad at Ely's to his mines, and the company will begin to move the coal out by the first of December. This is another big coal mine now open to the market and will furnish employment to several hundred men all the time.

The remarkable feature of this mining camp is the excellent order that is maintained at all times. There is never an oath heard in the camp, or a loud word uttered; everything is as quiet as a rural farm at all times.

Col. Matthews is to be congratulated upon this enterprise, and he has spent the past twelve months at hard labor there himself and superintending the construction of the camp and the road to it, and he now has one of the best, if not the best, mines in Southeastern Kentucky.

New Paper in Corbin.

The Corbin Times, Vol. 1, No. 1, has reached our exchange table, and we gladly welcome it as one of our exchanges, and wish for Bro. Adkins, its editor, unbounded success in his new field of labor. Corbin is a growing town and will support any newspaper enterprise that merits its support, and here is wishing The Times may grow as rapidly as the town in which it is located.

Ladies' Tailor-Made Suits.

Yes, they cost a small fortune! Don't worry, young lady. Go to Mrs. England's and get you instead a ready-made skirt, a plaid silk or woolen waist; a three-quarter or 47 inch coat and you are all right for Thanksgiving. This settles the question.

Thanksgiving Service.

In pursuance to the Mayor's Proclamation there will be a union service held at Union College Chapel on next Thursday morning at the usual hour. All the churches of the town are cordially invited to join in this service. Dr. J. W. Easley will preach the Thanksgiving sermon.

CALEB POWERS'

Case to be Heard Next Week Before the Supreme Court.

Attorney General N. B. Hays has gone to Washington, where he will appear before the Supreme Court next week to represent the Commonwealth in the now famous Powers case.

This case will be watched with a great deal of interest by both sides, as it will determine whether or not the case shall be transferred from the State to the Federal Court for trial.

Mr. Powers will be represented with very able counsel, such as ex-Governor Black, of New York, and ex-Governor Yates, of Illinois, will be leading counsel for him.

Moving Pictures.

The Davis-Barth moving picture exhibition will give an entertainment under the auspices of the Baptist Institute to-morrow night (Saturday) November 25. They come here well recommended—presenting the latest in moving pictures, portraying history, dramas and events to life-like—realism. The great train robbery, tracked by bloodhounds, fighting the flames, bombardment of port Arthur, are some of the headliners, in addition to twenty other numbers of highly interesting, instructive, humorous and morally entertaining.

IRWIN-JOHNSON.

A marriage of considerable surprise to Barbourville people was that of Dr. W. Y. Irwin, chiropractor, of Hopkinsville, Ky., and Mrs. Cora S. Johnson, of Pineville. The wedding occurred Saturday evening, November 19, at the home of Judge Moss, Pineville, Rev. Buchanan, of the Christian, Middlesboro, performing the ceremony. Dr. and Mrs. Irwin went to Middlesboro after the ceremony, coming to Barbourville Sunday morning.

Dr. Irwin will remain here this week, while his wife will remain until the holidays. Mrs. Irwin is well known here, where she numbers her friends by her acquaintances.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION.

Following the custom that has become national by its usage, of setting apart one day in each year to be observed as a day of thanksgiving and praise to the Giver of all good gifts, and the privilege of rendering thanks for the abundant crops, the absence of pestilence, the innumerable mercies and blessings we as a people have been permitted to enjoy, and following the example set by our honored President, Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, I now set apart Thursday, November 30, as a day of thanksgiving, and ask that the people of Barbourville assemble themselves together at their places of worship on that day, and render to God, thanks for the many blessings of the past and implore His mercies for the future.

Done in the city of Barbourville, Ky., this the 15th day of November, 1905.

ROBERT W. COLE, Mayor.
